Dear David,

Thank you for your letter of 10 March about the implementation of the moving traffic contraventions provisions under the Traffic Management Act 2004.

I have noted with interest the comments you have made about the need for these powers. I would like to see what further evidence there is from individual local authorities and the positive impact such powers would provide in local situations. On this basis I believe the most appropriate time to review this is in the summer.

In the meantime I will ask my official to continue to work closely with LGA officials, and I would be grateful if they would keep us informed of developments.

Best wishes

SADIQ KHAN
